b. Automatic Data Processing for Cargo Cost Information

Representatives of the Transportation Division presented a briefing to the Area Division Logistics Officers outlining a system for providing cumulative costs of transportation through utilization of the Agency Automatic Data Processing machines. Several of the Area Division Logistics Officers had inquired if the Transportation Division could devise such a reporting system. A general discussion following the briefing indicated only a few of the Logistics Officers had any interest in the proposed report. In consideration of the limited need indicated for the data no further action is planned. Developmental information has been retained for future reference.
